Debbie Timmins (Weefz) Just came across a free (!) cute single player flash-based pseudo-RPG called Adventure Quest. The graphics are very cute. Look at my pet rock! :) I call it pseudo-RPG because I don't come across any role-playing elements outside of standard put-numbers-in-force-or-agility. I've only played it for a couple of hours, but haven't seen any opportunities for dialogue that seemed to make any real difference in what's going on in the long-term. It seems to have mostly centered around battling monsters through a menu-based system and buying new items similar to Final Fantasy games, but Oh! So much sloooweeer! And I couldn't buy any spells coz I kept getting a bug in the database, but it's a good laugh as a casual time-killer. Look at it here. Oh yes, and if you give them some money (become a Guardian), you get access to a lot of other devices and also you get to beta-test DragonFable. Whatever it is.
